

CAMP EMERY GUARD WEARS HONOR MEDAL

Lieut. Jeremiah Murphy Won
Congressional Decoration as Indian Fighter.

The stalwart figure of Police Lieutenant Jeremiah Murphy, in charge of Camp Emery at night, is looked upon with envy by the old soldiers who pass him at the main entrance of the building. A small gold star hanging from a blue ribbon covered with many little white stars which adorns the lieutenant's breast is responsible for the envious looks and hearty hand claps of comradeship with which he is greeted by hundreds every night.

For Lieutenant Murphy is a member of that very small body of men who have gained such renown on the field of battle that Congress has seen fit to decorate them with a special medal of honor, the most highly prized decoration in the world. It is said, because it is the most difficult to obtain.

The lieutenant was given his medal for conspicuous bravery during the fight between the Sioux Indians and the Third United States Cavalry on the Powder River, March 17, 1876. He was a member of Troop C, Third Cavalry, and rendered important service in the Indian campaign.

Lieutenant Murphy has been a member of the police force thirty-three years, and for a number of years was a member of the mounted detachment.

He is also a member of the Medal of Honor Legion, the private organization of the handful of men who have received the Congressional medal of honor. They are meeting in annual convention this week in connection with the G. A. R.

FORTIER IS THANKED BY NAVAL VETERANS

Success of Dog Watch and Other Gatherings Appreciated by the Delegates.

Chairman A. G. Fortier, of the committee in charge of arrangements for the naval veterans' entertainment was given unique distinction yesterday afternoon when by unanimous vote, special resolution of thanks for his services was adopted. Mr. Fortier is a naval veteran and is keenly interested in the success of the organization.

At present there are only a few hundred of the veterans left and they are scattered throughout the country. Through Mr. Fortier's efforts the dog watch held Wednesday evening turned out to be the biggest entertainment by a separate organization of the encampment.

He also obtained the co-operation of the Navy Department in the decoration of the naval headquarters with flags and pictures and of the dog watch hall with signal flags and the ensigns of all nations. His comrades showed their appreciation of his efforts at the annual meeting by their resolution of thanks.

Hospital Doctors Laud Health of Veterans

While there were a number of exhaustion cases and other patients with slight illnesses treated at the Camp Emery hospital yesterday, but one veteran was found to be too ill to be permitted to leave during the day. This was W. L. Nash, of Alliance, Ohio, a former member of the 162d Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Mr. Nash's illness is not regarded as alarming and it was expected that he would be recovered by this afternoon.

The physicians at Camp Emery and at other hospital stations of the citizens' committee declare the present encampment of the G. A. R. will go down in history as one of the most remarkable gatherings ever entertained in Washington by reason of the small number of hospital cases that have been treated and the almost total absence of serious accidents or cases of illness. The health of the veterans, they declare, seems to be remarkably good for at least half of the cases of prostration that have been treated have been of visitors not belonging to the Grand Army.

CAVALRY SURVIVORS MET AT FT. STEVENS

Twenty-fifth Volunteers Recount
Defense of Capital on Battlefield.

Survivors of the Twenty-fifth New York Volunteer Cavalry met in reunion at Battleground Cemetery, near Fort Stevens, yesterday, on the spot where they lost a number of their comrades on July 12, 1864, when General Jubel A. Early attempted to capture Washington. The Twenty-fifth held the fort against great odds until the arrival of the Sixth Army Corps.

The reunion was held at the base of the monument erected in the cemetery by the State of New York. Colonel Scott, commander of the Twenty-fifth, described the battle to the large crowd gathered in the cemetery. John H. Wolf, president of the Twenty-fifth Cavalry Association, recounted the history of the organization since its formation, twenty-five years ago. "Naming Old Glory," a poem by James Whitcomb Riley, was read by Capt. Samuel H. Jacobson.

U. S. Navy Begins Annual War Game in Atlantic

A heavy line of dreadnaughts and an auxiliary fleet of transport ships at sunrise today attacked the Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Cape Cod.

However, it was nothing to get excited about—just the beginning of the annual naval war game for the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Frank B. Fletcher. In the coast attack last spring the United States navy was badly licked owing to a shortage of swift battle cruisers. The enemy landed on the Virginia coast under cover of a heavy fog and captured Washington with little difficulty.

MRS. LOGAN PLEADS FOR U. S. DEFENSES

Urges Army of Tennessee to Aid Efforts for Preparedness as Veterans Cheer.

A stirring plea for better understanding and preparation for national defense uttered by Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of their old commander, brought the veterans of the Army of the Tennessee to their feet in "Dog Watch" hall, at Camp Emery, yesterday afternoon during the course of their annual reunion.

The hall rang with the cheers that followed the close of Mrs. Logan's address.

The reunion of the Army of the Tennessee began yesterday afternoon. W. L. Alden, chairman of the reunion committee, presided. Chairman W. P. Gude, of the citizens' committee, welcomed the veterans. Addresses were also made by Col. W. H. Heath, of the Thirty-third Missouri Infantry, and Col. O. D. Kinsman, of the Eleventh Iowa Infantry.

The special feature was the reading of the names of the corps and army commanders and the presentation of their representatives to the veterans. Representatives of the families of Generals Grant, Sherman, MacPherson, Logan, A. J. Smith, Joseph A. Mower, W. T. Clarke, and Powell Clayton were present.

Mrs. Logan told the veterans that as they were keenly interested in the welfare of the country they should help wake up the sentiment for national preparedness. The nation needs to be put in a state where it can insure its own peace, she declared. She asked that the wives of the veterans send her their names, with their consent to join the Navy League, and by their influence thus further its aims.

J. F. Callahan, representing the United Confederate Veterans, made a short address, in which he told some of his experiences in the artillery division of the Army of Northern Virginia.

Prohibition Exponent Sounding Out Veterans

That the delegates attending the G. A. R. encampment shall not lose sight of the political significance of their organization J. H. Larimer, managing editor of the National Daily, a prohibition newspaper published in Ohio, was on hand yesterday making a canvass of the veterans on the question of prohibition. While the question is not likely to come up during the present encampment, the sentiment of the veterans is being sounded and every effort is being made to find out how every man registered by the registration committee looks upon the question. These efforts are being made by Mr. Larimer on his own initiative, and are in no way connected with any of the organizations that are meeting here.

Many Kinds of Rheumatism One Sure Mode of Treatment

Authorities Say Don't Use Liniments. Treat
It Through the Blood. You Can't Rub It Out!

Whether your trouble is Sciatica, Lumbago or the dreaded Articular Rheumatism, the answer is the same. You must treat it through the blood. That is the only way to rid the system of uric acid, purify the blood and revitalize the nerves. If the blood is freed from impurities, Rheumatism must go. This is short is the exact knowledge gained by the research laboratories of the S. S. S. Co. in Atlanta. There tests have been made for fifty years. They know what Rheumatism is. They know that S. S. ## BOY BUGLER MEETS THE DRUMMER BOY

Heroes of Chickamauga Given
Demonstration at Informal Reunion.

The deeds of Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas, the "Rock of Chickamauga," were recalled for the benefit of the veterans of the Army of the Cumberland at the informal reunion of the survivors of that organization at Camp Emery yesterday. The Society of the Army of the Cumberland will meet in Chattanooga, Tenn., next month.

The meeting was called to order by Col. G. C. Kniffin, and the address was made by Dr. Charles Oliver Brown, of Chicago, who was chief trumpeter of the Third Ohio Volunteer Cavalry. Dr. Brown had his trumpet with him and sounded several of the familiar calls.

At the close of the meeting a demonstration was occasioned by the meeting for Dr. Brown and Brig. Gen. John Clem, U. S. A., retired, whom their comrades affectionately referred to as the "Boy Bugler" and "Drummer Boy" of Chickamauga, respectively.
